

ALTEC Video Shorts Contest

Basic Contest Info

1st Place

The theme of this year's ALTEC Video Shorts Contest is "Learn a Language". We are seeking short films in Quicktime format, no longer than 90 seconds, on this theme. (Credits may exceed the 90 second time limit).

The content of your clip should be family-friendly, free of explicit or offensive content, and culturally sensitive.

2nd Place

Awards:

Award winners will be announced at the ALTEC Open House on April 15th, 2010.

1st place: Team receives $250 Amazon gift certificate.

2nd place: Team receives $100 Amazon gift certificate.

3rd place: Up to four team members will receive ALTEC hoodies.

3rd Place

Any CU undergraduate or graduate student is eligible to participate in the contest.

Faculty, staff, and non-campus persons may participate, but only current CU-Boulder students will be eligible for prizes.

You may participate in up to two video projects in any capacity, and will be given credit for membership on no more than two official teams.

Teams may consist of any number of members. Any person who participates in the making of a video must be given credit as a team member, including the actors, writers, editors, and videographers. All team members must be listed on the registration form.

Releases must be obtained from any person whose voice or image is used in the film; a release form is available on the contest website. Video clips containing copyrighted material will not be considered.

Submission Deadline:

Films must be saved to CD or DVD and submitted with the registration form and any releases necessary to ALTEC no later than April 1st.
